Congratulations to Tony Squire on 25 years of impacting and helping young men improve their lives and become productive citizens. Tony and I first met when my son participated in the Squire's AAU Program. My son's participation allowed me to see that Tony's mission was far greater than enhancing basketball skills and winning AAU tournaments. His focus was and is on providing structure, educational opportunities and exposing young men to venues and travel many would have never experienced without participation in his program. The purity of Tony's commitment to young people drove me to become a part of the program, thus I became the program's lawyer and assisted with the organization obtaining its 501 (c)3 non-profit status.

Tony has survived many obstacles and roadblocks which are a testament to this faith, courage and passion for helping young men develop into outstanding adults. Through it all, Tony's enthusiasm for his mission has not waned but grown stronger. More amazingly all that Tony and the organization have accomplished has been done on a shoe string budget, with volunteer staff that all work full time yet give unselfishly of themselves.

It is my hope that soon Tony will have the funding to become a fulltime employee of the organization so the number of youth who can benefit from his commitment, knowledge and wisdom will be unlimited.

Sincerely,
